THE POLICEWOMAN.

WHY SHE IS NEEDED TO-DAY.

[BY D. O. U. FETZ.]
(Director of the Bristol Training School for Women Patrols and Police.)

The policewoman, like many another woman-worker at the present time, stands to the British public merely as a fresh and interesting proof of feminine capacity to fill the breach in time of war; and if some of her more enlightened critics may be heard to declare that she has "come to stay," this does not abate them, as a rule, from a share in the general misconception that the war, and nothing but the war, is the cause of her appearance on the scene.

The truth is that policewomen were "on the way" considerably before August, 1914, and that in any case their arrival could hardly have been much longer delayed. But just as the conditions brought about by the war have made a pitch at the social standard, so these same conditions have made the need for policewomen so obvious, and so imperative, that it is difficult to dissociate them in our minds from the war itself.

And, after all, what matter? Here are the conditions; and here are the policewomen; and the question is not so much how they got there, or what is to become of them, as whether they can, indeed, fill the place which circumstances have allotted to them. The answer from the growing number of those who know policewomen and their work, is strongly in the affirmative.

FACT AND KNOWLEDGE.

First, as to the policewoman herself, what is she, and what does she aspire to become? She is, as a rule, between the ages of thirty and forty-five, and is possessed of sufficient education, knowledge of the world, tact and discipline, to be able to carry out pioneer work under circumstances which are frequently trying, to say the least of it. She must be able to keep her temper in a crowd, and her head in an air-raid or an accident; to separate two women fighting on a Saturday night; to console a frightened child, and to win the confidence of an unruly "dapper"; to distinguish between the "drunk and disorderly" and those who are merely "under the influence of drink"; to size up the facts of any case, which she may be sent to investigate, and to give her evidence in the police court, with fairness, accuracy, and precision.

Behind all this must lie real knowledge—knowledge of the women and girls in the streets, of why they are there, and what they are doing; knowledge of their homes, their "circumstances," their difficulties and their temptations; knowledge of where she can help and where she must, perhaps, stand aside; knowledge, too, of all the innumerable agencies and organizations which can be used for their benefit, and of which, in the most suitable for each individual case.

GRAND CONDITIONS.

Granted all these qualifications—or as many of them as you can hope to combine in one human being—what is the aspiration of the policewoman? At the outset, and most emphatically, it is not to replace the male constable. Policewomen have their own distinct sphere of duty, and though this does include some tasks which the male constable has hitherto performed for women and girls, and which the relinquishes with a sigh of relief, it has never been assumed by policewomen, or for them, that their employment will lessen the need for that of the other sex.

Someone has called the English "Robbie," but the existence of a "street sister" has the advantages of a "street sister" in this capacity, that the policewoman's presence, and the administration of her own law, will help work out the old, amongst the changing conditions of modern times, in the police courts and the cells, in the Act must have done much more than cover two years' wastage in the army. Munition-making has been organised to such an extent that there is no longer any sign of disadvantage on the side of the Allies, but, on the contrary, a manifest superiority both in quantity and effectiveness. Germany is now no longer able to keep the pace. The order by General von Falkenhayn, mentioned in one of Sir Douglas Haig's dispatches today, is a very frank admission of this, and is an important testimony to the steady weakening of Germany's ability to withstand for long the pressure which is now being exerted by the Allies on all fronts. Unless, he says, all ranks make a most serious endeavour to assist in the preservation of material, the making good of losses and the placing of new formations in the field will be rendered impossible. That is a very important admission indeed for a General of von Falkenhayn's standing to make.

NEWS OF THE DAY

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Detective Sergt. J. W. Pinnett of the Water Police searched the s.s. Sunking yesterday and found 1,055 lbs. of opium concealed in the ship's bilges.

There will be a Night Fete at the V.R.C. Bath to-morrow night, commencing at 9 p.m. A string band will be in attendance, and given good weather the sport can be relied upon to be up to standard. There should be a good attendance.

Messrs. Hughes and Hough's Coal Report shows arrivals since Sept. 5th amounting to 25,650 tons, all sold, and 2,445 expected are 37,200 tons from Japan, 7,100 tons from Dairen, 3,000 tons from North China, and 200 tons from Formosa, all sold.

The eighth subscription list to the War Charities Fund, which we shall publish to-morrow, brings the total up to local payments total $198,199.10, leaving a balance in hand of $26,592.65.

The Astor House Hotel Company of Shanghai has announced the appointment of Mr. Victor Moroni, who for five years was the superintending caterer of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, as manager of the Astor House. Mr. Moroni already has entered upon his duties.

Thieves were on board the s.s. August Belmont yesterday. A. R. Jackson, ship's cook, complains of the loss of clothing and tobacco valued at £11.16.6 which was taken from his cabin. The boatman, Wm. Zazette, while among some Chinese workmen had an open face gold Elgin watch, valued at £13, stolen.

A resident returned from Peking tells in a Hankow paper, how some one pulled the German Minister's leg. That gentleman appeared at the house occupied by the British Minister, and proposed to stay there. He had been told that it was a German boarding house, and not till he recognized the enemy would he be convinced that they did not take in Germans.

The Fire Brigade early this morning was called to a fire at 71 Queen's Road West. The outbreak had occurred through overheating of a drying stove on the third floor and soon burnt fiercely. The Brigade controlled matters within half an hour of arrival but the volume of water poured on the burning floor seriously damaged the middle and ground floors. The premises, which were partially gutted, are insured for $3,500.

In announcing the cessation of the Imperial Penny Postage from the Treaty Ports of China, the N.C. Daily News remarks: "Inasmuch as the British Post Office will no longer be in competition with the Chinese Post Office, this may be considered as a first step toward the final withdrawal of foreign post offices in China. It being understood that 'China, having joined the Postal Union, has requested the various Powers to surrender the privilege of having their own post offices in this country.' From the Chinese viewpoint, China, having organized a postal department on foreign lines, is entitled to handle all the mails in her own country."

THE MAGISTRACY.

AN EVENING OUT.

SAILOR ASSAULTS CHINESE AND BREAKS CUPS AND SAUCERS.

Heinrich, Sebastian, an American sailor on the U.S.S. Elcano, a river gun boat, appeared in Mr. Hazleland's Court this morning on a charge of assaulting a Chinese at the Sokiers' and Sailors' Home, Arsenal Street, and with damaging property to the extent of $5. The complainant, the No. 1 boy at the Institute, had his head swathed in bandages and his eyes and lips were puffed. Defendant, he said, came to the Home about 6 p.m. yesterday and ordered food, with which he was served but when he was asked to pay he said he had no money. He then went to sleep and woke up about 9 o'clock and asked for more food. "He was given the food but on his being unable to pay it was taken away from him. Defendant got up and struck witness, in the face several times making his nose bleed and when he (complainant) tried to get away, defendant chased him and hit him over the head with a billiard cue. He was struck several times and fell down unconscious."

Defendant accused complainant of picking up a chair and striking him, but this was denied.

The Magistrate asked if defendant had a bruise on the head when he was brought to the Station.

Sergt. McDonald said "yes," but complainant said he did not know how it got there.

Another boy at the Home gave corroborative evidence, adding that he was also struck by defendant who was drunk. Defendant shook a shelf on which were cups and saucers so violently that the shelf and all came tumbling down.

Defendant alleged that he was struck first, but this was also denied.

Sergt. McDonald said that when defendant was brought to the Station he was not sober.

"I ordered steak and eggs," said defendant, who proceeded to state that he had no money but had promised to pay when he drew his wages. When complainant took the food away the latter struck him and then defendant struck complainant. Three or four Chinese, he said, delivered an attack on the Magistrate.

The Magistrate had a short conversation with an officer of the ship who sat on the Bench and afterwards said defendant had been given an excellent record. The Magistrate said he was satisfied defendant came ashore and got drunk and that drink got the better of him and made him carry on in a way he should not have done. He (the Magistrate) was also satisfied that defendant was struck. Having regard to his good character he ordered defendant to pay a fine of $3 and 85 damages or 14 days' hard labour.

SUPPOSED SQUEEZE.

ACTION ON DEAL IN OPIUM.

Two Chinese were charged in Mr. Wood's Court this afternoon with conspiracy to obtain $400 by a bogus opium deal.

Complainant said on Sept. 15th he gave the first defendant $400 at the Sze Wan boarding house and instructed him to "purchase Government Opium for exportation. The two defendants alone were present. Complainant did not know where the first defendant was going to buy the opium and the reason he did not buy it himself was because he did not know the laws of the Colony and defendant had told him he knew someone in the Opium Farm who would be able to get a permit. Defendant asked complainant to receive the opium from him on board the s.s. Wing On. Complainant went to the wharf and to the Sze Wan and waited until 6 p.m. for defendant, but did not see him. He then returned to the boarding house and at 7 o'clock the second defendant appeared and informed complainant that the Police had seized the opium. Complainant asked where the first defendant was and was told he had gone to Macao. The excuses did not satisfy complainant and he went and reported the matter to the Police, but before doing so instructed a man to watch the second defendant. The Police questioned the second defendant and the latter gave information which led to the arrest of the first defendant at a house in Yuenai.

Cross-examined by Mr. Mason, the first defendant admitted that he had been to Macao and that he had been to the Sze Wan and waited for defendant.

The second defendant admitted that he had been to the Sze Wan and waited for defendant.

The first defendant was sentenced to 14 days' hard labour and the second defendant to 14 days' hard labour.

standing friend who required no security.

A woman, living at Peel Street, said she received $885 from the first defendant and she handed him "a bundle" on instructions.

Mr. Mason contended that the action was a bona fide one.

The first defendant admitted receiving the money and he gave it to the woman. The parcel he received in return contained small one-tael opium tins. On the return journey he lost sight of the second defendant who was carrying the opium. Sometime later he saw his folk—the second defendant—being searched and he told him that the bundle had been snatched.

"Why didn't you go back and tell complainant he had been robbed?" asked the Magistrate.

Defendant in the box answered that he instructed his folk to do that.

The folk gave similar evidence.

His Worship ordered the discharge of prisoners and recommended their banishment as well as that of the complainant.

425,000 CARGO WORTH $200,000.

The German iron sailing ship Indra, which hurried back to the United States when halfway across the Atlantic on the outbreak of war, recently unloaded her cargo of nitrate in Brooklyn. When this cargo arrived in port, nearly two years ago, the cargo was worth about $25,000, but on account of the great demand for this chemical in the manufacture of explosives owing to the war, its value has now increased to $200,000.

HONGKONG GYMKHANA CLUB.

TIPS FOR TO-MORROW'S RACING.

Thanks to the retirement of one typhoon to the north of Meiko Sima and the appearance of another which is considerably inaking time north-east of Luzon, we may confidently expect fine weather for the Gymkhana to-morrow afternoon.

The turf should be in good condition, not a dying course, but fast, and the times accomplished by the winning ponies are sure to be well up to Gymkhana averages. The racing promises to be good and close finishes are expected to be the rule rather than the exception; as no nomination in any of the events stands out as a certain winner.

As usual a military band will be in attendance and an excellent programme of popular pieces has been arranged. The first race is timed

The following is a list of selections for the principal events:—

First Furlong Race:—
Peter Doody,
Ploughfield, Sunshine.

GYMKHANA STAKES:—
Oregon,
King Jack, Matchbox.

Polo Pony Stakes:—
Jest,
Office Boy, Tammy.

1st CLASS "ONCE ROUND":—
Tinker,
Ploughfield, Forester.

DISTANCE HANDICAP:—
Fudge,
Tom, Cavalier Chief.

A CLASS: MULE AND A QUINER:—
Jest,
Maloni, Lorenzo.

PENANG AND A WAR CONTRIBUTION.

At a meeting of the Penang Chamber of Commerce it was resolved, "That, in the opinion of this Chamber, the question of making funds necessary for contribution to the Imperial Treasury for war purposes requires expert consideration before coming to any definite conclusion, and that Government be asked to inform the Chamber of the resolution arrived at by the Government Commission now sitting in Singapore."

THE MAIL SORTER AT THE FRONT.

The post-offices attached to our military hospitals have of necessity to be staffed with unfortunates, for many let- ters, queries addressed come to these fingers, for distribution among the patients. Into the letter box of the first London General Hospital fell a message addressed

Corporal J. Lamb
(known for his smile)
Military Hospital

(Just for a while)
The ward's No. 4, so too in the door
To Lamb.

"According to the Book of Exhortations, ch. 6, this means: 'Back up! The clerk scanning the names of the hospital book, and finding no Lamb, just considered them, then sent the letter to—' Dear Mr. Lamb."
